Foreword

This book has come into existence as a result of the common interest of the compilers in the Ephraim Gorham Family. Each had done considerable research before they learned, less than a year ago, of each other's interest and work. Mr. Parsons's work was mainly on the descendants of Ephraim's son John (1794-1864) in New York State, while the work of Mr. and Mrs. Hagen was mainly on the many descendants of Ephraim's son Shubael (1781-1857), most of whom had gone to Michigan.

The ancestry of the Ephraim Gorham Family was originally traced by the late W. Herbert Wood, Fellow of the American Society of Genealogists, of Elbridge, New York, and New Haven, Connecticut. Having a special interest in Elbridge pioneer families, Mr. Wood naturally was interested in the Gorhams, particularly since his aunt had married into that family. His research started over thirty years ago and continued until his death. Consequently, the ancestry and history of Ephraim Gorham has been exhaustively explored.

Mr. Parsons became interested in genealogy at an early age and this interest was heightened by the family tradition that his mother's ancestors came over on the Mayflower. He was able to verify this tradition sometime later when he wrote to a cousin, Mr. Fred D. Gorham of Elbridge, uncle by marriage to Herbert Wood, and learned of the latter's work, and thus secured the Gorham lineage. Since Mr. Wood had never compiled his Gorham material into genealogical form, he lent his notes to Mr. Parsons, who in 1947 compiled a genealogy of Ephraim Gorham's ancestry and descendants. Mr. Parsons did considerable research to fill in the data on the descendants of Ephraim's children. It happened that a few years later Mr. Wood died and left Mr. Parsons his genealogical library and papers, amongst which the latter found additional Gorham material.

After their marriage Mr. Hagen shared his wife's interest in her Gorham ancestry, and so together over a period of many years they have gathered data in their home state of Michigan on the numerous descendants of Shubael Gorham. The records of Mrs. Hagen's mother were quite complete for names, but a good deal of research was necessary to supply dates and places. Mr. and Mrs. Hagen's research in the last two years took them to the town of Elbridge, N.Y., the birthplace of many of the Gorhams, and finally to the Syracuse, N.Y., Public Library, where they saw and read Mr. Parsons's manuscript on Ephraim Gorham. They realized at once that their wealth of material on Shubael's descendants ought to be included in Ephraim's genealogy. The librarian told Mr. and Mrs. Hagen of Mr. Parsons's work and how they might contact him.

Thus, less than a year ago, the compilers first met; and after several conferences, they agreed to combine their efforts in doing further research on the unknowns and in compiling and publishing in mimeographed form a revised genealogy of the Ephraim Gorham Family. A surprising amount of new material has been gathered in the last six months and has been included. The compilers hope that this genealogy will be a worthy memorial to Herbert Wood, that it will be of interest to students of Gorham genealogy, and that it will benefit the generations to come.

Acknowledgments

The completeness of this book could not have been achieved without assistance from many people, and the compilers wish to take this opportunity to express their deep appreciation to all those who have contributed time, effort and material. We are indebted to those persons who are cited in the references following each family group, and to them we express our sincere gratitude.

In particular we wish to thank Walter Messinger Gorham of Lansing, Mich., for the loan of his blue print chart of the descendants of Capt. John¹ Gorham; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Kuster for help with the Elisha Gorham Family and their own records; Mr. and Mrs. Coe C. Smith for their efforts in collecting and forwarding material from the records of his mother, Dora (Sanger) Smith;

Emma (Whaley) Smith for her recollections and records of the Whaley Family; and Ruth (Winchester) Sloan for her help in filling in gaps amongst the Nathan Gorham descendants.

Above all we acknowledge a lasting debt of gratitude to Inez (Spangler) Helvey who supplied the invaluable material contained in her mother's Scrapbook, the record of the Shubael Gorham Family found amongst her brother's books and her other records; to Bertha (Gorham) Van Blarcom who contributed almost all the material on the Warren A. Gorham Family; to Norine (Reed) Wheeler, without whose help the record of the Amy (Gorham) Reed Family could not have been so complete; and to Henrietta G. Miller who filled in the record of the Henrietta (Gorham) Williams Family.

Finally, the compilers acknowledge their great debt to their associate, Marie (Smith) Hagen, for her interest, her encouragement and her constant help with all the work involved in the preparation of this genealogy.

NOTE: The reference to Shubael Gorham's family record in the Bible in possession of Edgar G. Spangler of Seattle, Wash., in 1939, does refer to a Bible type family record. However, it is not in a Bible but in a book entitled Young People's Bible History, published by the Henry Bill Publ. Co., Norwich, Conn., in 1879. For sake of brevity it has been referred to as a Bible. It is now in the possession of Inez (Spangler) Helvey of San Francisco, California.

Preface

Mayflower Ancestors

William Bradford, second Governor of Plymouth Colony, wrote a voluminous history of the Mayflower adventure and its one hundred two passengers. In his list of those on the Mayflower there are the following: "Mr. John Carver; Kathrine, his wife; Desire Minter;; John Howland,; William Latham, a boy; John Tillie and his wife; Eelizabeth, their doughter;" The passengers of the Mayflower landed at Plymouth Rock in December 1620 after surviving a severe storm at sea during which John Howland nearly lost his life. He was thrown overboard by the lurching ship in the tempest, but clung to lines in the water hanging from the masts, and was hauled back on board.

During the first winter, scarcity of food, exposure, and disease caused the loss of half of the passengers, including John Tilley and his wife. Thus Elizabeth Tilley was left an orphan about 14 years of age. It is quite likely that John Carver, who had been elected the first Governor of the Colony, and his wife took Elizabeth into their household as they had no children.

After the death of Governor Carver (April 1621) and his wife (May 1621) it is believed that the remnants of his household, John Howland, Elizabeth Tilley, Desire Minter, and the lad William Latham, cast their lots together as one family group under the direction of John Howland. Just when is uncertain, but John and Elizabeth were married, and it is quite probable that the faithful Desire Minter stayed on after the marriage. She was held in such high esteem that Elizabeth named her first daughter after her instead of after some cherished ancestor. Later in 1627, when John's family consisted of himself, Elizabeth, son John and daughter Desire, it is probable that Desire Minter had returned to England where she died and William Latham had gone to Jamaica where he died.

Elizabeth Tilley Howland was a woman of superior ability and earnest Christian faith. She passed the closing days of her life with her daughter Lydia Howland Brown in Swansea, where she died, according to Swansea town records "21 Dec. 1687, aged 80," which indicates that she was but 13 years old when she arrived in Plymouth. Only three of the Mayflower passengers outlived her.

John Howland was among those who signed the Mayflower Compact 21 Nov. 1620. He became very active in the political and church life of the colony. He was a member of the Governor's Council for several years, helped lay out land and highways, was on many different committees for the town and the church, was an assessor in 1633, and a town deputy most of the years from 1652 to 1670. He lived at Rocky Nook which is about 3 miles northwest along the coast from Plymouth Rock. When his house there burned, he and his wife took shelter with their son Jabez in Plymouth in a house built in 1667 and which still stands. ("It may be the only remaining house which echoed to a firstcomer's steps." See the National Geographic Magazine for August 1947.) John Howland died 23 Feb. 1672/3. He probably was buried at Plymouth.

The Gorham Family

Most of the Gorhams in the United States descend from Captain John¹ Gorham, who, sometime prior to 1643, came to the Plymouth Colony from England, where he was born about 1621. The question of his parentage has not been satisfactorily solved. There was a Ralph Gorham in Plymouth, Mass., in 1637, and at Benefield, Northamptonshire, England, was found the baptism of a John Gorham, son of Ralph Gorham, 28 Jan. 1620/1. Many have identified this John and Ralph Gorham as the Ralph and John Gorham in Plymouth.

In the New England Historical and Genealogical Register, v. 10 (1856), p. 293, there is an account of the origin of the Gorham family and the supposed ancestry of Capt. John Gorham. In part it reads as follows:

"This family was descended from the De Gorrams of La Tanniere, in Brittany (France), where William, son of Ralph de Gorram, built a castle in 1128. It was situated in the town of Gorram, from which place, doubtless, the family name originated. A branch came over to England with the Conqueror. Sir Hugh de Gorram died at Churchfield in 1332, from which time the family declined, but continued in that vicinity, at Benefield, King's Cliff and Glapthorne, till the latter part of the 17th century. The only remaining branch of the Northamptonshire Gorhams, settled at St. Neats, in Huntingdonshire, about 1676, and is still continued in the Rev. Geo. C. Gorham."

"The Gorhams of New England are supposed to have emigrated from Benefield, in Northamptonshire, in the reign of Charles the first. In the Register of Baptisms is found the following entry: 'John Gorram, son of Ralph Gorram, baptized Jan. 28, 1621,' - the name of Ralph is not found in any subsequent register, neither is the death of John recorded. Hence it is probable both Ralph and John quitted Benefield for some other abode. It was probably, therefore, this Ralph Gorram who had a grant of land in New Plymouth in 1637, and that John, of Barnstable, before mentioned, was his son. The father of Ralph, above mentioned, who emigrated to New England, was James, of Benefield, born 1550, married Agnes Bemington, 1572, and died 1576. Ralph was born 1575."

However, at a later date, the Wast Book of Col. John Gorham (1745) came to light and in it Col. Gorham gave the following:

"Louisburg Feb 27 1745/6

the Rise of ye Family of Gorhams taken from Capt George Gorham--

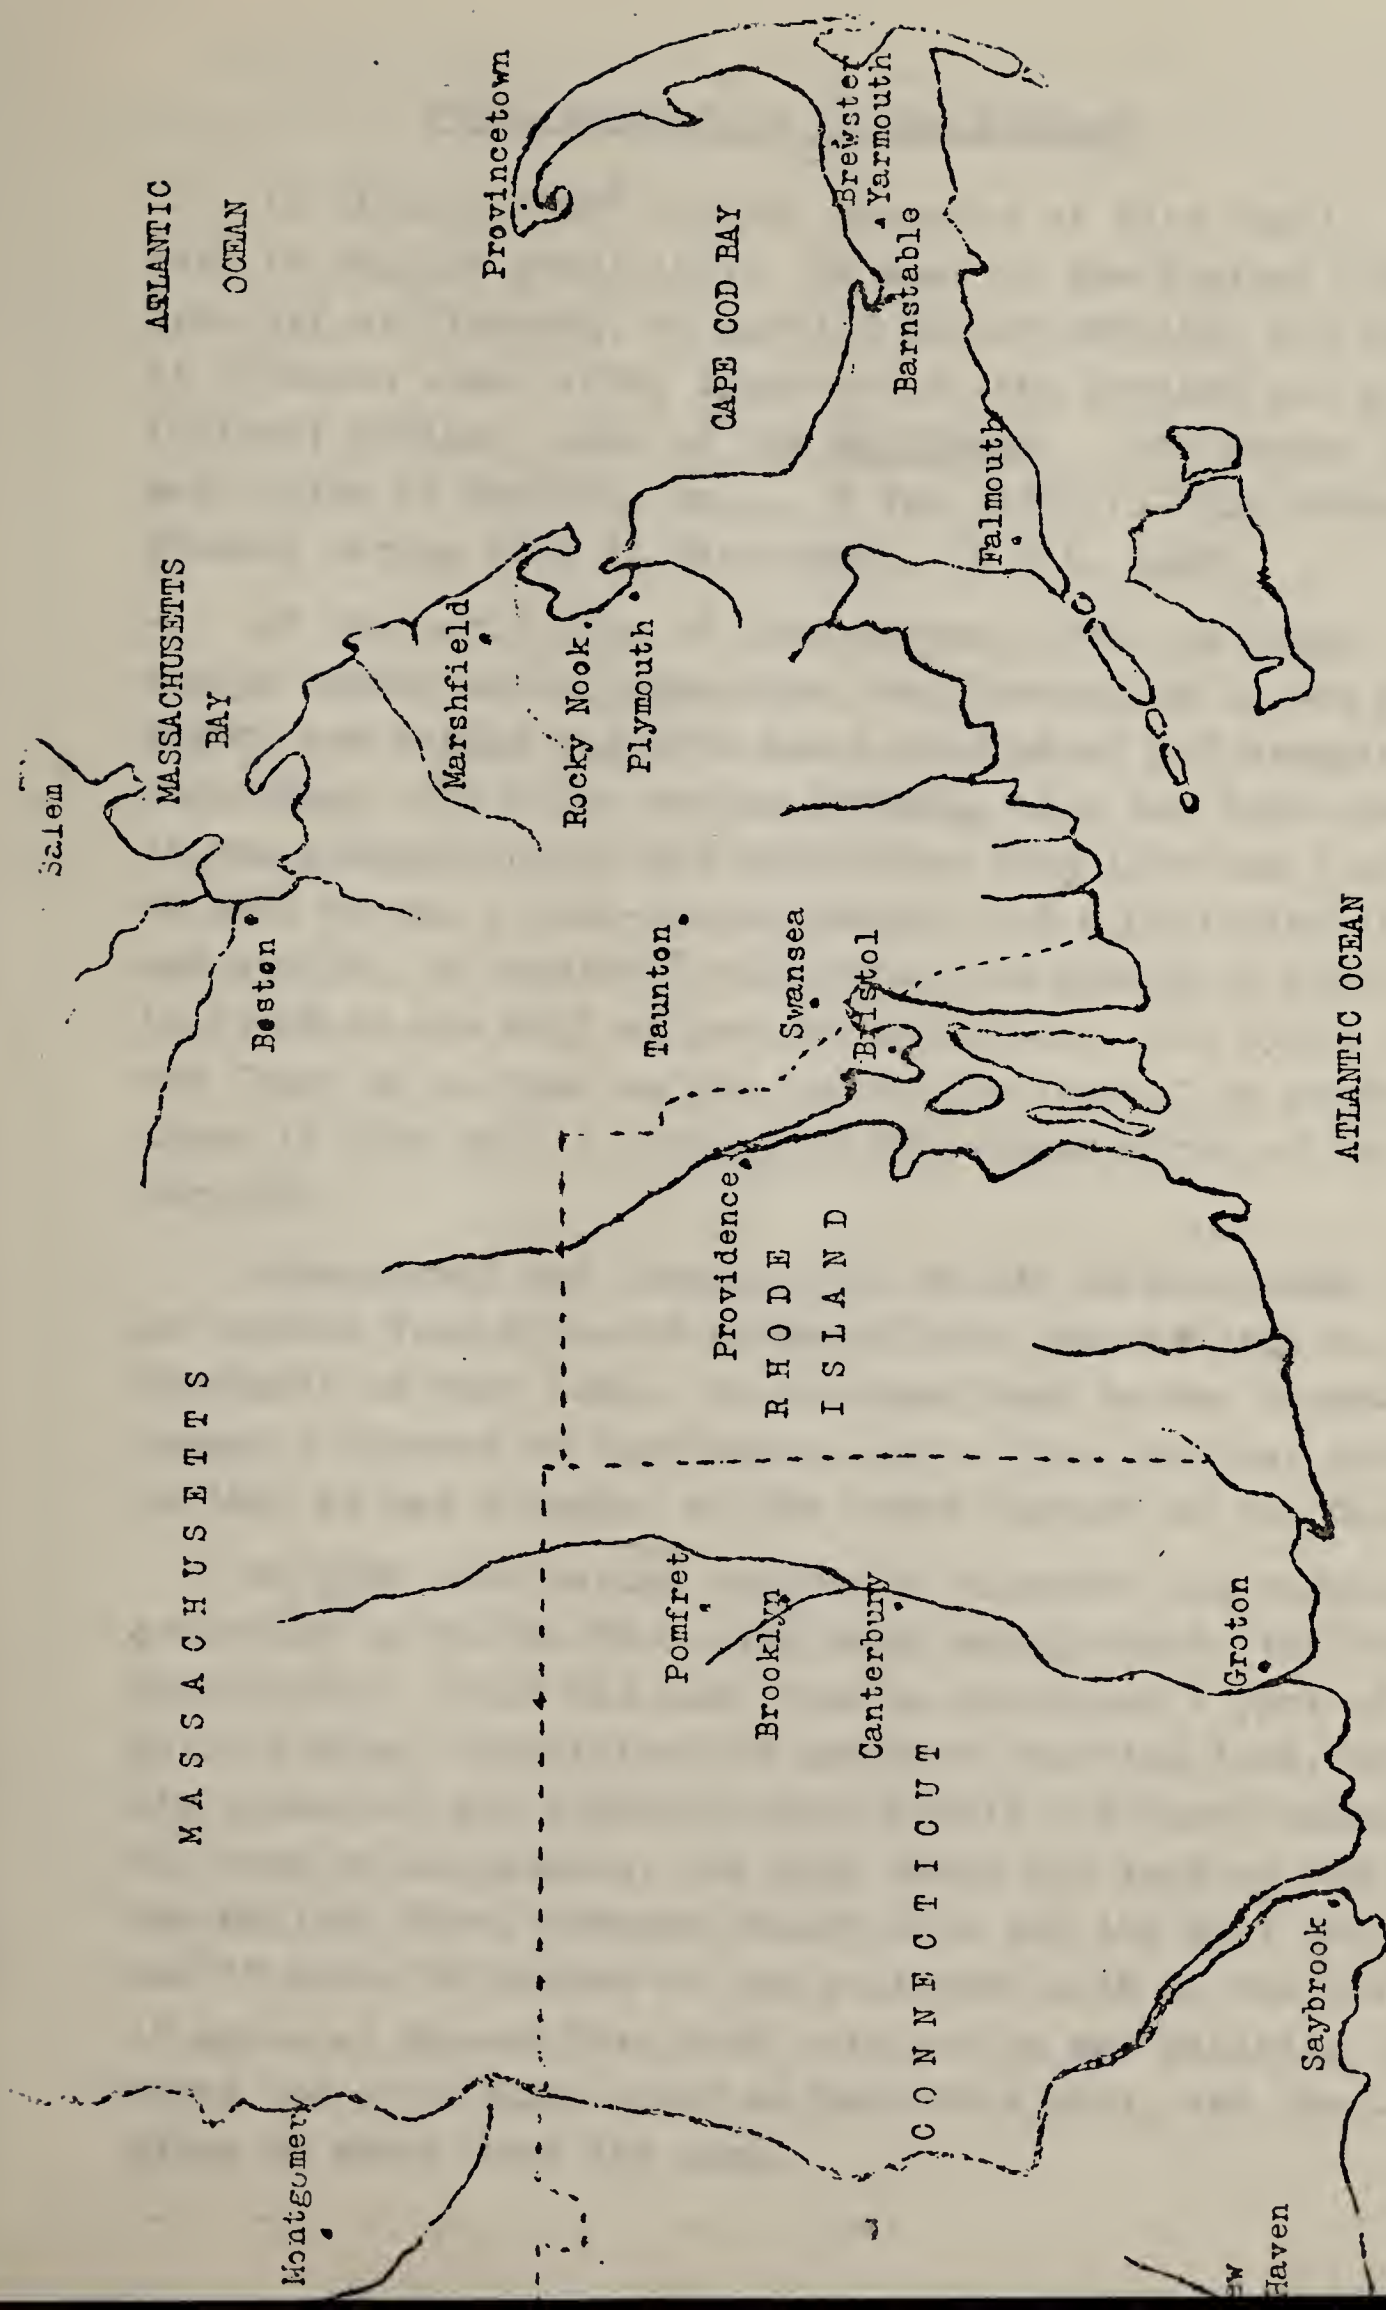

My Great Great Grand father & Family Came out of Some part of England and Lived att Marshfield and Had one son Nam'd after him John Gorum, alias Gorham - Which Son after Having Married With an Howland and Had Sevrall Children Went home to England and Returnd Soone again to his family-

His Father Lived & Dyed att Marshfield and Whats Remarkable He Was a Joyner and Made his Coffin himself for sevrall Year before he Dyed and used to Keep apples In It as a Chest Untill He dyed and used t

the Son John that maryd Desire Howland and Went to England Moved From Marshfield to Barnstable and Settled there in ordr to begin a township afterwards Called Barnstable. Built Mills - tan fatts &c."

Col. Gorham stated in his Dayly Journal, 1737, that the Gorhams came from Huntingdonshire.

From this account it appears that Capt. John Gorham's father's name was John also. In Aug. 1643, a John Gorham was listed at Plymouth and another at Marshfield. Since Capt. John's first child was born at Plymouth, presumably the John at Marshfield was his father. If this is so, then Ralph was not the father of Capt. John Gorham. Capt. Gorham deposed 4 March 1674/5, that he was aged 53 years or thereabouts. (See Mayflower Descendant, 5:28, 172-180.)

First Generation in New England

1. CAPTAIN JOHN¹ GORHAM, ancestor of this family, was born in England about 1621. He came to New England and in 1643, probably at Plymouth, he married DESIRE HOWLAND, who was born at Plymouth about 1623, daughter of John Howland and Elizabeth (Tilley) Howland, both of the Mayflower. John Gorham died and was buried at Swansea, Mass., 5 Feb. 1675/6. His widow, Desire Howland Gorham died at Barnstable, 13 Oct. 1683.

Of the early life of John Gorham little is known. He had a good common school education, was brought up in the Puritan faith, and during his life was a consistent and exemplary Christian. His wife, Desire Howland, also had been educated in the Puritan faith, and during her long life was a pattern of good works, a kind-hearted woman, and a Christian in name and spirit. A beautiful tribute to the memory of Mrs. Gorham is found in the will of her servant Totoo. His dying request was "Bury me as near as you can to the feet of my mistress." There is true poetic feeling in the simple words of the dying servant.

John Gorham had land granted to him 18 Dec. 1638. In 1646 he removed from Plymouth to Marshfield, and in 1648 was chosen Constable of that town. In the same year he was propounded to become a freeman of the Colony, and 4 June 1650 was admitted. In 1651 he was a member of the Grand Inquest of the Colony.

In 1652 John Gorham removed to Yarmouth and purchased the house-lot on the North County road, adjoining to the bounds of Barnstable. About the same time he purchased a part of the Hallett Farm, containing 100 acres of planting land, adjoining his house-lot and situate mostly within the then boundaries of the town of Barnstable. He also owned the land on the north of the Hallett Farm, between Stoney Cove and the Mill Road, and the 17 acres of meadow on the southwest side of the Cove, and 10 acres at Stoney Cove Neck laid out to Mr. Hallett. He also owned the grist mill known as Hallett's Mill, and the landing place or wharf near the same.

John Gorham was Deputy from Yarmouth to the Plymouth Colony Court at the special session of 6 April 1653 and the following year was chosen surveyor of highways in the town of Yarmouth. At the Court held 1 June 1653, "Liberty was graunted unto John Gorham to locke out some land for accomodation, and to make report thereof to the Court, that see a competency may be granted to him." He selected a tract of 100 acres at Papasquash Neck, in Swansea, which was granted him in July 1669; and in July 1672, Mr. Constant Southworth, Mr. James Brown, and Mr. John Gorham were appointed a committee to purchase the same from the Indians. (Later, on 13 July 1677, in consideration of the good service that Captain Gorham had performed for the Country in the war in which he lost his life, the Court confirmed to his heirs and successors forever the 100 acres of land at Papasquash Neck.) In 1673 and 1674 he was a member of the Board of Selectmen of the town of Barnstable, and in the former year received the appointment of Lieutenant of the Plymouth forces in the Dutch War.

On 17 June 1675, General Benjamin Church arrived at Plymouth and confirmed former reports of the warlike conduct of King Philip. The next Sunday, June 20, Philip's men made an attack on Swansea and rifled a few houses. Forthwith a post was sent to Plymouth which arrived at break of day June 21. Information was sent to Boston and aid solicited. Orders were issued to all the Captains of all the companies in the Colony to march without delay. Thursday June 24 was a day of fasting and prayer, by appointment throughout the Colony. According to Yarmouth records, Mr. John Gorham was Captain of the militia company and a resident of that town. On 24 June 1675, Captain John Gorham and twenty-nine men from Yarmouth, whose names appear on record, "took their first march" for Mount Hope. These were mounted men. The Plymouth forces were commanded by Major Cudworth and were at Swansea June 28, and were joined by the troops of Massachusetts.

In the latter part of August the theatre of war was transferred to the banks of the Connecticut (River). Capt. Gorham and his company marched into Massachusetts. He arrived after the total defeat of Capt. Lothrop at Sugar Loaf Hill, in which defeat most of his forces were lost. The following is a letter (the original is preserved at the Secretary of State's office in Boston) written by Captain Gorham:

"Mendum Octob: th: 1: 1675

Much Honrd my servis with all due Respeckts humbly presented to yourselfe and the rest of the Counsill hoping of your helths I have made bold to troble you with these few lines to give your honnors an account of our progress in your Jurisdiction: According unto your honers order and detirmination I arived at Mendum with fifty men and the next day Leftennant Upham arived with thirty-eight men and the day following wee joyned our forces together and marched in pesuite to ffind our Ennimy; but God hath bin pleased to denigh us any oppertunity tharein; though with much Labor and travill we have indeavored to find them out which Left. Not Else to troble you I Rest yours to Sarve in what I am able.

JOHN GORUMⁿ

4 October 1675, he was appointed by the Court Captain of the second company of the Plymouth forces in King Philip's War. Capt. Gorham and his company were in the sanguinary battle fought 19 Dec. 1675 at the Swamp Fort in the Narragansett country. That battle was decisive in its results; it not only crushed the power of the Narragansetts, but it destroyed the hope of King Philip and his allies of exterminating the white race in New England. The forces of the United Colonies had assembled on the 18th within fifteen miles of the Swamp Fort. The weather was cold and severe, the forces had to remain in an open field "with no other covering than a cold and moist fleece of snow." At dawn of day the next morning they started on the weary march, sinking ankle deep at every step in the snow. At one o'clock they arrived at the fort. It was built on an island of five or six acres in the swamp, surrounded with a thick hedge and strengthened with palisades. There were two entrances, "one over a long tree upon a place of water; the other at an angle of the fort, over a huge tree, which rested on its branches, just as it had fallen, the trunk being raised five or six feet from the ground." The latter was judged to be the only accessible entrance. Opposite the fallen tree there was an open space within the fort, defended in front by a log house, and flankers on each side. In these the Indian sharpshooters were posted, and to attempt to cross over meant almost certain death. A part of the Massachusetts troops made the first attempt with Captains Johnson and Davenport being killed and a large number wounded or slain. After three or four hours of hard fighting, the English succeeded in taking the fort.

Captain Gorham never recovered from the cold and fatigue to which he was exposed in this expedition. He was seized with a fever and died at Swansea where he was buried 5 Feb. 1675/6. On the following 7th of March an Inventory of his Estate was exhibited to the Court held at Plymouth and was filed there. On the same date Letters of Administration were granted by the Court to his widow Desire and to his sons James and John to settled his estate.

CAPTAIN JOHN¹ GORHAM'S ESTATE

(Transcribed from the original records by George Ernest Bowman, in the Mayflower Descendant, v. 4 (1902), pp. 153-158.)

Captain John Gorham died at Swansea, but the exact date of his death is not known. The date of his burial is entered on the Swansea town records as follows: "Cap: John Goram was buried the 5th day of february 1675" This date in new style would be 15 February 1676. The record of his inventory shows that he was a resident of Yarmouth at the time of his death. His widow Desire, the eldest daughter of John Howland, must have removed to Barnstable immediately, as in the bond of the administrators, dated 9 March 1675/6, she is called "of Barnstable". On the seventh of March she and her sons James and John had been appointed administrators and their bond is the only original paper connected with the settlement of Capt. Gorham's estate of which I have learned. It is preserved in the "Scrap Book" at the Registry of Deeds at Plymouth, It bears the autograph signatures of Desire (Howland) Gorham and her sons James and John.

DESIRE (HOWLAND) GORHAM'S ESTATE

(Transcribed from the original records by George Ernest Bowman, in the Mayflower Descendant, v. 4 (1902), pp. 217-220.)

Desire (Howland) Gorham, eldest daughter of John and Elizabeth (Tilley) Howland, died at Barnstable and her death is entered on the town records (Volume I, page 414) as follows: "Mrs Desire Gorham Relict of Cap John Gorham Senr Late of Barnstable Deceasd Departed this Life ye 13 Day of Octor 1683." According to the probate records her inventory was taken 3 August 1683, more than two months earlier, and it is evident that one of these entries is incorrect. The probate record was copied from the original inventory and the town record was copied, in 1736, from the original volume now lost.

Second Generation

2. JABEZ² GORHAM, son of Captain John¹ and Desire (Howland) Gorham, was born 3 Aug. 1656, at Barnstable, Massachusetts. He married HANNAH (STURGIS) GRAY, who was born about 1654, and died 17 Oct. 1736 (Gravestone Record, Brewster, Mass.), widow of John Gray, and daughter of Edward and Elizabeth (Hinckley) Sturgis.

Jabez Gorham served in King Philip's War and was wounded. On 5 May 1677, the following record was made by the Plymouth Colony Court: "In reference unto the cure of Jabez Gorum whoe was wounded in the late warr, the Court doth apprehend that in case it be not payed by sume of Rhode Iland concerned in it, that they judge the charge of the said cure be defrayed out of the generall estate of Captaine John Gorum, deceased, both lands and moveables."

After recovering he returned to Yarmouth and in 1679 his name appears on the list of townsmen of Yarmouth. In 1680 he was constable, and in 1683 was on the Grand Inquest of the Colony and that year took the freeman's oath. Soon after the death of his mother (13 Oct. 1683) he removed to Bristol, R.I., which was then in Mass., for the deep-indented east shore of present Rhode Island was first claimed by Plymouth Colony. (In 1746/7 the king gave most of it to Rhode Island, and a land swap with Massachusetts in 1862 added the rest. See the National Geographic Magazine for Aug. 1948.) He died in 1725 at Bristol, his death occuring between 16 March 1724/5, the date of his will, and 18 May 1725 when his son Isaac, of New Haven, Conn., gave a receipt for his part of the estate. His widow Hannah returned to Cape Cod after his death, for on 7 Sep. 1732, "Hannah Gorham of Yarmouth, in the County of Barnstable, seamstress," quit-claimed to Benjamin Gorham of Bristol, "tanner," all her interest in five acres of land in Bristol (Bristol Co. District Land Records, 21:262). She was buried in the Old Burial Ground at Brewster, Massachusetts.

Third Generation

3. JABEZ³ GORHAM, son of Jabez² (John¹) and Hannah (Stur-gis) Gorham, was born 31 Jan. 1683/4, at Bristol, Rhode Island. He married by 1707, LEAH LITTLEFIELD, who was born 16 Sep. 1687, at Wells, Maine, died 13 May 1739, at Bristol, and was buried from St. Michael's Church, Bristol, 15 May 1739, daughter of Nathan and Elizabeth (Barrett) Littlefield.

Jabez married (2) 31 July 1744, MARY MAXFIELD, and a little over a year later he died 21 Nov. 1745, at Bristol, R.I. His widow, Mary, on 13 Oct. 1763, married Stephen Smith.

The estate of Jabez Gorham is on file at Taunton, Mass. The following abstract is from the Mayflower Descendant, v. 17, p. 69:

Estate of Jabez Gorham - 1745

Fourth Generation

4. NATHAN⁴ GORHAM, son of Jabez³ (Jabez², John¹) and Leah (Littlefield) Gorham, was born 8 Jan. 1725/6 at Bristol, R.I., and was baptized there in St. Michael's Church 30 Jan. 1725/6. He was married 14 May 1751, at South Kingston, R.I., by the Rev. Joseph Torrey, Congregational minister of the Church of Christ, to SUSANNA KELLY, whose parentage has not been determined. They settled at Canterbury, Conn., where the births of their children are recorded; but may have lived for a short time at Groton, Conn., before proceeding to Canterbury. Two of Nathan's sisters, Mary and Deborah, also settled in Canterbury.

Nathan Gorham served in the French and Indian War and appears in Capt. John Durkee's 9th Company, Col. Eleazer Fitch's 3rd Conn. Regiment, 1758, and in Capt. Christopher Palmer's 11th Company, Col. Eleazer Fitch's 4th Conn. Regiment, 24 March to 22 November 1760. Nathan Gorham appears in the land records of Canterbury from 1757 to 1768, after which no record has been found. Nathan and Susanna undoubtedly died at Canterbury, Conn. The records of the First Church of Brooklyn, Conn., give the death of the "wife of _____ Goram" 17 Feb. 1776. This could very well be the death record for Susanna; if it is, then Nathan would seem to have survived her, since the designation "wife", not widow, was used. It also seems likely that Nathan died by 1781, the year in which his sons sold the Gorham lands in Canterbury and ceased to reside there.

CHILDREN:

5. I Joseph, b. 28 Sep. 1751; m. Hannah Staples.
6. II Ephraim, b. 31 March 1753; m. Sarah Staples.

III Nathan Jr., b. 10 Sep. 1757; according to records of First Church, Brooklyn, Conn., for 12 Oct. 1776, "Nathan Goram lately died in ye Army."

7. IV George, b. 19 July 1759; m. Mary Wells.

V Jabez, b. 19 May 1765; served in the Revolution from Westhampton, Mass.; probably died in service or soon after. (See Mass. Soldiers and Sailors in the War of the Revolution, 6:644.)

Fifth Generation

5. JOSEPH⁵ GORHAM, son of Nathan⁴ (Jabez³, Jabez², John¹) and Susanna (Kelly) Gorham, was born 28 Sep. 1751, recorded at Canterbury, Conn. He married at Canterbury, 8 Jan. 1773, HANNAH STAPLES, who was born at Pomfret, Conn., 9 Aug. 1749, and died at Montgomery, Mass., Oct. 1829, daughter of Jacob and Eunice (Cady) Staples. Joseph Gorham settled at Montgomery, Mass., where he was living 5 Feb. 1781 (Canterbury L.R. 8:439). He died there 16 Dec. 1825, aged 76 years (g.s.).

CHILDREN: (First two b. at Canterbury, rest at Montgomery)

I John, b. 7 Nov. 1774; d. 13 Apr. 1825, Montgomery, Mass.; m. there (int. 4 Jan. 1798), Molly Maynard.

II Susanna, b. 8 May 1777; d. 12 Mar. 1851; m. (int. 13 Nov. 1796, Montgomery), Elisha Shurtliff.

III Luther, b. 1 Aug. 1783; m. (int. 14 Dec. 1807, Montgomery), Sophia Herrick.

IV Nathan, b. 15 Nov. 1785; drowned 2 Apr. 1814, about 2 miles south of Worthington, Ohio; m. (int. 7 June 1807, Montgomery), Hannah Noble.

V Eunice, b. 20 Dec. 1791; m. (int. 29 Oct. 1808, Montgomery), Calvin Gorham.

Note: Hannah Staples had a daughter Mary born 12 Jan. 1771, in Canterbury, who after Hannah's marriage to Joseph Gorham went by the name of Gorham. However, it has never been determined whether Joseph Gorham was her father. Mary married 17 May 1792, Asa Shurtliff.

6. EPHRAIM⁵ GORHAM, son of Nathan⁴ (Jabez³, Jabez², John¹) and Susanna (Kelly) Gorham, was born 31 March 1753, recorded at Canterbury, Conn. He married SARAH STAPLES, who was born at Pomfret, Conn., 24 Aug. 1754, and died at Elbridge, N.Y., in May 1841, aged 84 (g.s.), daughter of Jacob and Eunice (Cady) Staples.

Ephraim Gorham served in the Revolutionary War and appeared on the return of Captain Elderkin's Company, Canterbury, 1776. On 5 Feb. 1781, Ephraim Gorham of Canterbury, Conn., Joseph Gorham and George Gorham of Montgomery, Mass., sold 18 acres of land in Canterbury to John Brown of Canterbury (Canterbury L.R. 8:439). This deed was acknowledged by all three at Montgomery, Mass., 7 May 1781. The last deed for Ephraim Gorham in Canterbury is dated 26 March 1781 (ibid. 10:26), and it seems probable that he removed to Montgomery by 7 May 1781. However, he did not stay long in Montgomery. Ephraim is not found in the 1790 Census but was living in New York State in May 1794 (when his youngest son was born), probably in Montgomery County, where he appeared shortly thereafter.

In May or June 1804 Ephraim Gorham and his family settled in the town of Elbridge, at that time a part of the town of Camillus, Onondaga County, N.Y., his sons Nathan and Shubael having settled there the previous year. On 4 May 1804, Ephraim Gorham was a resident of Montgomery County, N.Y., when he assumed a mortgage from Alexander Glen (Montgomery County Mortgages 6:446); but on 26 June 1804, he was of the town of Camillus when he bought his first land from Telles A. and Eliza Fonda of Schenectady (Onondaga Co. L.R. D:38). He owned a large tract situated mostly on lot 92 in the town of Elbridge, and it is said that this tract was a mile square, undoubtedly an exaggeration. On 20 Feb. 1811, Ephraim Gorham of Camillus, Onondaga

Co., N.Y., sold to Ebenezer Cady of Brooklyn, Conn., a certain tract of land (2 acres and 90 rods) lying in the southwest corner of Brooklyn, "being a lot of land set out to Sarah Gorham wife of s^d Ephraim in the lands set out for dower in the estate of her father Jacob Staples to her mother Eunice Staples late Eunice Withy dec'd" (Brooklyn, Conn., L.R. 4:189).

In the petition of the executors, John and Shubael Gorham, of the estate of Ephraim Gorham, dated 11 Oct. 1830, there is mentioned the widow Sally; children, Nathan, Shubael, Sally, wife of Samuel Pierce, Isaac and John (Letters of Administration, AA:30, Onondaga Co. Surrogate's Office, Syracuse, N.Y.). Ephraim Gorham died 23 Aug. 1830, aged 76 (g.s.), at Elbridge, N. Y. He and his wife are buried in Mount Pleasant Cemetery, Elbridge.

CHILDREN:

8. I Elizabeth, b. about 1779; m. Henry Meech.
9. II Nathan, b. 8 Oct. 1780; m. Tryphena Harmon.
10. III Shubael, b. 30 July 1781; m. Mary (or Polly) Carpenter.
11. IV Sarah, b. 29 July 1783; m. Samuel Pierce.
- V Isaac, b. _____; was of Elbridge, 26 June 1837, (Onondaga Co. L.R. 71:386); no further record.

7. GEORGE⁵ GORHAM, son of Nathan⁴ (Jabez³, Jabez², John¹) and Susanna (Kelly) Gorham, was born 19 July 1759, recorded at Canterbury, Conn. He married MARY WELLS. He served in the Revolution from Hampshire County, Mass., being engaged for the town of Norwich in 1779 and for the town of Southampton in 1781.

George Gorham was allowed a pension on his application executed 16 Oct. 1818, while a resident of Montgomery, Mass. The papers state that he was mustered at South Hadley, Mass., early in April 1781. He served as private in Capt. Thomas Turner's Company, Col. Henry Jackson's Regiment, and was discharged in Jan. 1784. In 1824 he was aged 66 years and his wife 64 years. (George Gorham, Mass., S32748, National Archives, Washington, D.C.)

George Gorham died 17 Nov. 1848, aged 89-3-28, at Montgomery, Mass., where he had settled by 1781. His death record at Montgomery says he was born at Groton, Conn., son of George and Susan Gorham, but his father's name is recorded incorrectly.

She married HENRY MEECH, who died 13 Aug. 1848, aged 74-3-25 (g.s.) in the town of Brutus, Cayuga County, N.Y. Elizabeth died there 29 April 1814, aged 34 years (g.s.), and Henry Meech married (2) Susannah _____, who died 30 July 1853, aged 70 years (g.s.). All three are buried in the Meech Cemetery, town of Brutus.

9. NATHAN⁶ GORHAM, son of Ephraim⁵ (Nathan⁴, Jabez³, Jabez² John¹) and Sarah (Staples) Gorham, was born 8 Oct. 1780, at Canterbury, Conn. He married 5 July 1803, at West Galway, Fulton Co., N.Y., (at which time he was of Amsterdam, N.Y.) TRYPHENA HARMON, who was born 28 Mar. 1783, at Bennington, Vt., and died 28 Oct. 1861, aged 78-7-0 (g.s.), at Elbridge, N.Y., daughter of Gaius and Mary (Parsons) Harmon.

Nathan Gorham settled at Elbridge (then Camillus), Onondaga Co., N.Y., in 1803 and became a large land owner. In 1823 or 1824 he donated a site in Elbridge village for a church building for the Congregational Church. Nathan Gorham died 4 Jan. 1846, in his 66th year (g.s.) at Elbridge. Nathan and Tryphena Gorham are buried in Mount Pleasant Cemetery, Elbridge.

CHILDREN: (Born at Elbridge, N.Y.)

16. IV Moses, b. 1 Jan. 1813; m. (1) Eliza Yates; (2) Susan H. Phillips.
 V Aaron, b. 21 Feb. 1816; d. 3 June 1897, Elbridge, unm. His obituary from the Scrapbook of Ida (Gorham) Spangler, Seattle, Wash., states: "At his home near Hart Lot on Thursday evening, June 3, Aaron Gorham passed peacefully away in the 82d year of his age. He was one of the six sons of Nathan Gorham, a pioneer settler of the town. Their mother was a very Christian woman and named her sons after characters found in Holy Writ, viz: Gaius, Nathan, Joseph, Moses, Aaron and David, who still survives. And it is a somewhat curious coincidence that all having died have passed in order of their birth. Aaron died on the farm where he was born and reared and where the even tenor of his life was passed, as he watched and worked to transform the woodland into fertile fields. His life was exemplary; he was faithful and generous ... He never married, but his love and fatherly advice and counsel were bestowed upon his numerous nephews and nieces, who bless his memory."
17. VI David, b. 20 July 1818; m. (1) Laura Jane Hill; (2) Mary Arnold.

(originally the First Presbyterian Church in Galway); (Nathan Gorham's recorded land transactions are too numerous to list here as they cover 25 pages in 5 different books of Onondaga County land records.)

10. SHUBAEL⁶ GORHAM, son of Ephraim⁵ (Nathan⁴, Jabez³, Jabez², John¹) and Sarah (Staples) Gorham, was born 30 July 1781, in Massachusetts, probably at Montgomery. He married about 1809, MARY (also called POLLY) CARPENTER, who was born 2 July 1790, in Saratoga County, N.Y., and whose parentage has not been learned. She died 22 Dec. 1866, in the 76th year of her age (g.s.) and was buried in the Old Morenci Cemetery, Morenci, Michigan.

In 1803, according to the New York State Census of 1855, Shubael Gorham came to that part of Camillus, later called Elbridge, N.Y. (On 26 March 1829, the present town of Elbridge was created out of a part of the town of Camillus.) Here he bought a farm 1 March 1806. According to the deed recorded in Book 76, p. 342, of Onondaga County Land Records, Cornelius I, Bogert Esq. of New York City, conveyed to Shubael Gorham 100 acres "... lot number 3 part of great lot number 92 ..." A year later, on 16 June 1807, his father bought 50 acres adjoining this farm on the south (Onondaga Co., L.R. I:356). According to the 1855 Census Mary did not live in Elbridge until about 1809, so that is probably when Shubael brought her as a bride to his farm. Here their fourteen children were born, of whom eleven grew to maturity.

On 3 March 1840, Shubael sold the farm to his sons William C. and Squire M. Gorham (Onondaga Co., L.R. 76:341). By that time one or more of his daughters had removed to Michigan and others were soon to follow, but he and Mary continued to live on the farm as they are listed in the 1855 Census as living with William C. Gorham and his family.

Shubael Gorham served in the War of 1812 as a private in Capt. Michael Redman's Company, 9 Nov. 1814 to 22 Nov. 1814. When discharged he was allowed $3.73, probably for pay and for "6 days travel distance 120 mi." (See Adjutant General's records, Albany, N.Y., Roll 584, S. Edmonds P.M. Von 275 L.)

On 5 March 1857, Geo. C. Whiting, Commissioner of Pensions, Department of the Interior, U.S.A., issued a military bounty-land warrant (No. 58356) for 160 acres to "Shubael Gorham, Private, Captain Redmans Company, New York Militia, War 1812." (National Archives, General Land Office, Washington, D.C.) This warrant was never used by him to obtain a patent to land as Shubael died 14 March 1857, in his 76th year (g.s.), at Elbridge, N.Y., and was buried there in Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

Two years later on 19 May 1859, his widow Mary, then aged 68, appeared before C. Bullock, Justice of the Peace, to have a document executed in connection with the above land warrant (See No. 15063, Adjutant General's Office, Albany, N.Y., records). On 7 Nov. 1859, A.H. Jerome, Surrogate of Onondaga Co., appointed William Gorham to be administrator of his father's estate. The next day William assigned all rights and title in the land warrant to John Fehn of Minnesota.

On 1 April 1865, William completed the sale of his farm, and then removed to Lenawee County, Michigan. It is very likely that his mother Mary went to Michigan at this time with him to visit her several children who were living there; and here she passed the last year of her life.

19. ELISHA⁷ GORHAM, son of Shubael⁶ (Ephraim⁵, Nathan⁴, Jabez³, Jabez², John¹) and Mary (Carpenter) Gorham, was born 8 Feb. 1812, at the old homestead near Elbridge, N.Y. He married 3 Aug. 1838, in Elbridge, MINERVA HARMON, who was born 21 Jan. 1818, in Elbridge, and died 8 Nov. 1880, at Gorham, Fulton County, Ohio, the daughter of Silas and Susan (Babcock) Harmon, and the granddaughter of Gaius and Mary (Parsons) Harmon. (Thus Minerva was the niece of Tryphena Harmon Gorham, wife of Nathan⁶ Gorham, who was Elisha's uncle.)

Elisha Gorham removed from Elbridge to Michigan and Ohio in 1842 and settled in Fulton County near Fayette, Ohio, in the township of Gorham. This township is in the narrow strip of land claimed by both Michigan and Ohio in the "Toledo War". The disputed territory was given to Ohio despite the protests of a majority of the people, and in exchange, Michigan was given its upper peninsula when admitted as a state in 1837. Elisha's sisters, Sarah (Gorham) Whaley and Mary (Gorham) Ford came to this township in 1840, and another sister, Lydia, came to Lenawee County, just across the State line in Michigan, four years later. Elisha Gorham died 14 Mar. 1881, at Gorham, Ohio. He and his wife are buried in Oak Grove Cemetery, Morenci, Mich.

30. MARY ANN⁷ GORHAM, daughter of John⁶ (Ephraim⁵, Nathan⁴, Jabez³, Jabez², John¹) and Polly Ann (Palmer) Gorham, was born 20 Dec. 1836, in the town of Savannah, Wayne County, N.Y. She married at Savannah, N.Y., 29 July 1855, GEORGE RILEY WILSON, who was born 6 Jan. 1835, at Elbridge, N.Y., son of Riley and Belinda (Adams) Wilson.

George R. Wilson's mother died when he was three years old; and in 1844 at the age of nine years he ran away from his father's home in Elbridge and walked nearly forty miles to the home of his aunt, Sally (Wilson) Taylor, in Savannah, N.Y. Here he lived until his marriage, when he settled next door on the old Cushman Homestead, which became known as the Wilson Farm. This property came into the possession of Mary Ann Gorham's mother upon the death of her first husband, David Cushman, who died in 1832.

George R. Wilson was trustee of school district number 4 in the town of Savannah in 1867 and in 1878, and probably at various other times. He was overseer of highways in District number 31, Savannah, in 1870 and 1879, and probably held that office most of the time throughout the 70's. As early as 1867 he was an agent for R. and C. H. Sheffer, manufacturers of plows, cultivators, rollers, etc., Shortsville, N.Y. (in 1874 became C. H. Sheffer & Co.). He was still their agent in 1880. Also in 1867 he was an agent for Brown, Adams and Co. of Shortsville. This firm on 1 Jan. 1872, became H.L. & C.P. Brown, manufacturers of the Empire Grain Drill, Shortsville (in 1878 became known as the Empire Drill Co.); and on 9 Mar. 1875, George R. Wilson became their exclusive agent of the Empire Grain Drill for the towns of Savannah and Butler. He became an agent for White and Perkins, Baldwinsville, N.Y., manufacturers of carriages, buggies, lumber wagons, sleighs, cutters, plows, cultivators, etc., in 1868. In 1875 he was agent for S. R. Nye, Bay State Rake Co., Winchendon, Mass.

Early in 1877 George R. Wilson bought out Henry K. Graves's share in Graves & Son, General Merchandisers of South Butler. This partnership with Charles H. Graves was known as Graves and Wilson, General Merchandisers. This was dissolved in the fall of 1877. On 1 Feb. 1881, he purchased the Graves property in South Butler and the family moved there that year. The Wilsons were members of the Disciples of Christ Church in South Butler.

George R. Wilson died in the family home at South Butler, 28 Oct. 1904. His obituaries call him "one of the most prominent business men here"; "a man much respected by all who knew him"; and "one of the best known, and most highly respected citizens of Wayne County." Mary Ann (Gorham) Wilson died in the family home at South Butler, 6 Sept. 1907. Her obituaries say: "Mrs. Wilson was held in the highest esteem by all who knew her" and "She had been a life long, honored, respected and beloved resident of this community ... was a kind neighbor, a loving mother, a true friend and a devoted Christian." They are buried in Butler-Savannah Cemetery, South Butler, N.Y.
